

HTML INTRO / DEFINATION / MEANING...

- HTML stands for Hypertext Markup language.
- Hypertext means Machine readable text, it is the method by which you can move anywhere on the Internet by clicking on the links.
- Markup means it contains a set of Markup symbols, Tags, elements or codes that we insert in a file, which displays on WWW browser page.
- HTML is used to create Web pages by using certain elements which are building blocks of HTML pages.
- HTML elements are Tags like paragraph, heading, table tags and so on.
- Browser do not display these HTML Tags but it uses those tags to display the content on Web page.
- HTML is Markup language because it allows the user to organize, improve the appearance and link text & data, image on the Internet.
- Markup tell the Web page how to display words, images on Web pages of user.